Unless specifically authorized to conduct an "executive session" under the Indiana Open Door Law, all meetings of the County Election Board are open to the public to observe, although the board is not required to provide the opportunity for public comment. This consist of all official action that a county election board may take under Indiana election code including candidate challenge hearings, campaign finance enforcement or disposition of complaints regarding election code violations. (Per: "OPEN DOOR LAW" General 5-14-1.5-1)
